WINE REVIEW

97+/100

Deep red. Floral and herbal rather than overtly fruit on the nose and in the mouth, hinting at red cherry, dried herb, camphor, licorice and woodsy aromas and flavours. Nicely polished and full on the long finish. Boasts a completely different organoleptic profile from his stablemate, the 2020 La Casaccia Brunello, and so it should given the different positions, soils and exposures of the two vineyards. This is less forward than that wine presently, but will age longer. Drinking window: 2032-2042.
