From: A Vintage of Transcendence: 2004 Brunello di Montalcino Retrospective (January 2025)

Dark and earthy in the glass yet still boasting fantastic freshness, the 2004 Brunello di Montalcino Riserva makes itself known. Dusty and floral, it displays hints of underbrush and leather that complicate steeped plums and ground cloves. Pure elegance on the palate, it's silky smooth and nearly velvety in feel, flooding the senses with vividly ripe red and black fruits propelled by zesty acidity. The 2004 finishes with dramatic length and concentration, structured yet not severe, leaving a bitter tinge and a saturation of liquid violet florals that resonate.

Drinking window: 2024 - 2034.
